

Daniel FENWICK: The right to assisted death in England & Wales

My poster will focus on the forthcoming Supreme Court decision of Nicklinson in light of its implications for effective protection of the right to assisted death in England and Wales. (The decision has already been taken but the judgment has not yet been published – it is expected in late May this year.) The poster will address the Supreme Court's approach to strands of the Court of Appeal's judgment in Nicklinson relating to Article 8 ECHR and demonstrate the relationship of this approach to proposed provisions in the current Assisted Dying Bill.
